

JEREMY

Birthday:
April 8, 1979

Role in Band :
Guitar, Vocals,
set list maker

"Real" Job: 1st Grade Teacher

First Instrument: A borrowed acoustic guitar in 6th grade, and an electric guitar shortly after

Favorite Food: Steak, Pork, Chicken ... I'm not much on vegetables

Favorite Car: That's a tosss up, I still have my 1984 Pontiac Grand Prix which was my first car and I am still driving it during the winters ... then there's my 1964 Chevy Impala that I roll in during the summer. Love them both!

Favorite Band(s): Led Zeppelin, Aerosmith, The Darkness, Jet, Jimi Hendrix Experience, Lit

CD in cd player the longest: Pink Floyd "Dark Side of the Moon"

Favorite Movie: Castaway

Favorite Concert: Aerosmith in the 13th Row ... And Lit at the Ranch Bowl

Favorite Sport: Fishing (Hey it's on ESPN so it has to be a sport right?)

Favorite Place to be: TIE - on the couch watching a movie and eating popcorn with my wife and son Kayl, AND being on stage or playing in front of people ANYWHERE! I simply love to perform and play music with my best buds.

TIM

Birthday:
Sept. 29th, 1982

Role in Band:
Drummer, vocals

"Real" Job: Co-Owner/Graphic Designer for D&T Shirtified, Fremont

First Instrument: The piano, our mom gave us lessons. I quit like 4 times and then started again. I kind of wish I would have stuck to it now.

Favorite Foods: Pizza, Roast Beef and Mashed Potatoes

Favorite Car: Right Now, my 97 GMC Jimmy named James.

Favorite Band(s): Aerosmith, Led Zeppelin, The Black Crowes, Lit, 311, Remedy Drive

CD in cd player the longest: The Jackson 5 "Ultimate Collection" because my cd player broke and I couldn't get it out. The actual cd in there on purpose the longest was probably Led Zeppelin "How the West Was Won"

Favorite Movie: Anchorman

Favorite Concert: Aerosmith in the 13th Row

Favorite Book: "Walk This Way," the Autobiography of Aerosmith

Favorite Sport(s): Basketball, Coed Volleyball, and softball with Jeremy and our Dad

Favorite Place to be: Favorite location would be the mountains in Colorado. One of the coolest places to be is behind my drums with Jeremy and Nate in front of me.

nate

Birthday:
June 3, 1983

Role in Band:
Bassist

First Instrument: Tuba

Favorite Food: All kinds, I eat a lot.

Favorite Car: My 1974 "Club Wagon Chateau." Such a fine ride.

Favorite Band(s): The Beatles, The Darkness, Blue October, Aerosmith

CD in cd player the longest: The White Album by the Beatles

Favorite Movie: I like a lot of movies. I guess if I'm forced, "The muppet movie" was really good. It was a sociological abstract of a movie and theatrical business system, and how a diverse group of individuals can achieve extraordinary aspirations with effort and ingenuity. Plus Fozzy was really funny.

Favorite Concert: Aerosmith in the 13th row and Paul McCartney in St. Louis

Favorite Book: Ender's Game, by Orson Scott Card

Favorite Sport: to watch- football, to play-Basketball

Favorite place to be: Cookie Jarvus Land. It's a stretch of land that my parents own back at the farm. The trees grew at a weird angle there. My older siblings nick-named it after a Saturday morning cartoon from like the 1970's.

The Beginning

Just where does the Third Frate story begin? Well, it was probably back when Tim was in 6th grade and his mom made him play an instrument, and to her later regrets, he picked the drums. Now that Tim had a set of drums, Jeremy had someone to play his guitar with, that he had been playing for a couple of years now. Jeremy and Tim jammed together for many years, never really thinking it would amount to anything, just for fun in a tiny room in their basement. Many years later, Jeremy and Tim started jamming with a long time school friend, who was really good at the guitar. We learned a few covers and were set, except we had no bass player.

Then came Natebass. Yes, we did find him on the internet, and no, it was not on AmericanSingles.com. We found him on the classified section of slalomaha.com. Natebass had an 8" amp, an OLD heavy Fender bass, and no car, but he was pretty good. Being our one and only audition, we told him he could be in the band under the stipulation that he couldn't talk. Needless to say, he was all for it. Known to the public as "Vinyl Groove" we would practice a couple times a week, having to drive to UNO to pick up Nate, but it was worth it because we all loved to play. Well, after a couple of months of all of us playing together, a few gigs and many arguments, our lead guitarist decided to leave us behind on his quest for fame.

We were then stuck with no lead guitarist, and a couple of booked gigs, so we did the logical thing and made Jeremy learn how to sing and play the guitar at the same time. Tim and Natebass chimed in on a few vocals, and after a vote on new names at a party in Tim's basement, Third Frate was born. We have been having a blast playing together since January of 2004, and hope to keep it that way.
